FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

SECOND ANNUAL MEETING, AUGUST 12, 1999

The Rosemont Convention Center was the site for MCA's Second Annual Meeting, a highlight of the American Numismatic Association's convention officially billed as "Chicago," but actually convened at this suburban location adjoining O'Hare International Airport.

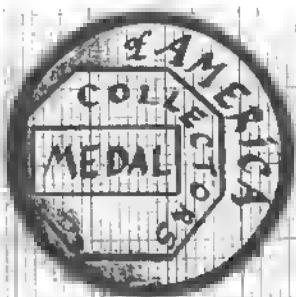

Our reception by ANA was outstanding as always. We enjoyed marvelous cooperation from our good colleague Brenda Bishop of Convention Services. We were quickly assigned a comfortable, centrally located room in the convention center, on the day and hour we wanted. One objective was to avoid conflict with other specialty organizations also meeting at the ANA, and this was certainly achieved. We wrote our first check to assure MCA's club membership in ANA, and we are officially Club Member C-186457.

With 29 members in attendance, MCA may have set an ANA convention record for speed and harmony. In a little over 45 minutes, we elected a full slate of officers, adopted a constitution, announced our first recipient of the Carl W.A. Carlson Award and tabled a logo. With near unanimity of essential points, MCA made amazing progress in all areas. The full stories of our first election, the bestowal of the first Carlson Award and constitution appear in greater detail elsewhere in this issue of the MCA Advisory.

Regarding a logo, members will recall the straw poll taken about a logo for our organization in the pre-convention newsletter. We were honored by three designs created by the famous Russian-born sculptor-medalist Alex Shagin. Brother Shagin provided this work free of charge, as a contribution to MCA. However, a clear majority of members felt that none of the designs in the newsletter really personified MCA to them and the members present at our meeting voted to continue our search for a suitable emblem.

One of the first members, Doug Thurber, submitted copies of his own design. The Thurber submission is reproduced below, along with a sketch by your President. The views of our members on these two suggestions will also be welcomed. We'll get there yet! In the meantime, MCA extends to Alex Shagin its most heartfelt thanks for his exceedingly generous support in this vital matter.

Please compare these two designs to the ones shown in the last newsletter. Please let us know if you prefer any one of them for the official MCA logo. (Please remember that these two new ones are only SKETCHES, unlike the professional work of our good colleague Alex Shagin!)

MEET YOUR OFFICERS AND BOARD OF DIRECTORS!

At the August 1998 organizational meeting, MCA elected a Steering Committee consisting of David T. Alexander (President-Editor pro tem), Paul Bosco, Michael J. Hodder and R.W. Julian. This committee served until our second meeting and performed a great deal of labor in the successful launching of MCA.

The following members were elected as our first officers and directors at the August 12, 1999 meeting:

President, David T. Alexander, Mahopac, N.Y.

Vice President, Michael J. Hodder, Wolfeboro, N.H.

Secretary-Treasurer, David T. Alexander

Directors (7):

Paul Bosco, New York, NY

Thomas K. DeLorey, Chicago, IL

Dr. Thomas Fitzgerald, Los Angeles, CA

R.W. Julian, Logansport, IN

H. Joseph Levine, Alexandria, VA

Robert Sather, Vallejo, CA

Pete Smith, Minneapolis, MN

These elected leaders offer MCA a wealth of experience, knowledge and dedication to medal collecting. We ask that all members give them the support they deserve.

PROGRESS AND GROWTH: 1990 AND 1999

In our first year we created our first newsletter and laid the foundations for our journal, The Medal Cabinet. MCA received wonderful support such publications as COINage, Coin World, Numismatic News and the American Numismatic Association journal, The Numismatist. Medallic Art Company, Dayton, Nevada, provided our first corporate gift of $500. Prominent dealers including Stack's, Presidential Coin and Antique, Bowers & Merena offered counsel and support.

Stacks donated books and medals for MCA's use and included MCA membership applications in catalogues that contained significant medal offerings. With this kind of help, MCA's goal for 1998 and 1999 was to lay a secure foundation by focusing on more realistic goals. MCA will "set the world on fire" in due course, but only from a solid foundation.

For example, opening a bank account in New York State proved to be a major challenge. Neither banks nor S & L's in this state are eager to help a non-profit organization that is not legally incorporated. Academic Federal Credit Union of Pleasantville, NY, was prepared to help us in our present stage of development, and our funds are safe and secure in this Credit Union's custody. A report on this was delivered at the second annual meeting.

A basic reality with which we must work is TIME. All Steering Committee members worked full-time (as do most of our new Board members, even if officially retired!), either in the numismatic or business worlds. All had to find the time to devote to MCA. With our new Board in position, it should be possible to increase the pace through the year 2000.

We should ask ourselves an important, basic question. What will each of us "get out" of MCA? Are we "getting our money's worth?" Put another way, is MCA a kind of savings bank from which we should expect to draw full value? I think not. Our $20 dues are really a contribution to help launch a vehicle that will bring medal collecting into its own. Your Steering Committee strove and its successor Board will continue to strive to provide as much for our members in publications, meetings and activities as circumstances permit. I believe, however, that our memberships are more an affirmation of faith in and love for medal collecting than a business investment.

MCA will achieve its objectives with your input and support. To paraphrase the late President Kennedy, we should not be asking what MCA can do for us, but what we can do for MCA!

THE FIRST ANNUAL CARL W. A. CARLSON AWARD

MCA's first award was created in 1998 and named for noted research cataloguer Carl W.A. Carlson. Many of our members knew Carl during his tenure as curator of the Garrett Collection at the Johns Hopkins University or during his years as a cataloguer with Paramount, NASCA and Stack's. Carl pioneered the concept of "Research Cataloguing," which strove to combine in-depth numismatic research with auction catalogue descriptions of important historical medals.

His contributions to NASCA's great catalogue of the Kessler-Spangenberger Collection set a new standard for quality of writing, research and description of U.S. Colonial, U.S. Mint and significant privately struck American medals. His published articles, public presentations and appearances on in convention forums were too numerous to record here.

Carl was never one to shrink from debate in his findings and he is greatly missed by his medal collecting colleagues. Serious illness has removed Carl from active participation in the world of numismatics, but MCA is grateful to his wife Pat for permission to honor Carl with the name MCA's first award.

The MCA membership was polled in our second newsletter. It was determined that the first recipient of the Carl W.A. Carlson award would be Boston medal researcher and writer John W. Adams. Our first Carlson Award laureate has carved out a major niche in modern research and writing in such diverse fields as the history of American auctions and the medal. His studies of the development of Colonial Indian Peace Medals and the Comitia Americana medals issued under the Continental Congress place him in the first rank of the new generation of students of the American medal.

MCA believes that John W. Adams personifies our organization's thrust toward research, collecting and publication in the field of the medal. His labors in the field should be an inspiration to all of our members, encouraging them to aspire to the finest in our field of interest.

WHAT DOES MCA NEED?

MCA's primary needs are TIME and DEDICATION. Money we have for the moment. In the interests of more frequent publication, would any member volunteer to serve as Newsletter Editor? Member Pete Smith has volunteered to serve MCA as Research Librarian, does he not point the way for the rest of us. Perhaps a Membership Director who could help track our membership list, help with mailing cards and notices in the near future. Remember, we can do all things only if we all pitch in.
